Dedication

As we look back to 1959 when we, the Seniors of 1963, entered Belvoir-Falkland High School as Freshmen, we pause a moment to evaluate the past four years. In doing this, we unanimously agree that one person has done his best to make us worthy of our school.

When we travel down the road of life, the lessons you have taught us will continue with us. Your kindness and patience, your humor, and diligence to your work has won you a place in our hearts. For being our friend, as well as our teacher, and for inspiring us to do our best always, you deserve more than we could ever give. Wishing in some humble way to say thank you, we with deep gratitude and friendship, dedicate this, our yearbook, to you, Mr. Eugene James.

Principal's Message

Another hurdle in life has been overcome. I hope you will continue to meet the challenges of life with the interest, desire and determination you have shown while at Belvoir-Falkland.

The world is changing and becoming more complex every day making the need for advanced education more important than ever. You have prepared for yourself a basic foundation upon which you can build your life to meet our uncertain future.

I know you will always strive to do your best to make your community and the world a better place in which to live. May God guide and protect you in your efforts toward a happy and successful future.

Class Prophecy

What a wonderful day for the class reunion. When we graduated in '63, 1973 seemed so far off but now it has arrived.

As we enter Belvoir, we immediately spot the grounds of dear old Belvoir-Falkland High School. Also, we see many familiar faces.

Getting out of the car, we are greeted by Beverly Gaynor, Anne Proctor, and Harriette Turner, who tell us they are now the owners and operators of the "Ocean Plaza" at Carolina Beach.

Traveling on through the crowd we see Steve Little, Paul Bright, and Waylon Whitley discussing the latest world events. We learn Paul and Waylon are now scientists at the U. S. Testing Center at Cape Canaveral, and Steve is Assistant Basketball Coach at the University of North Carolina.

Uncle Sam does have a way of messing up things and he has done just that today, for several members of our class are not able to be with us. We learn that James Ayers, Joe Braxton, Fate Heath and Bobby Waters are all serving in the Air Force stationed in Texas. Joyce Elks, too, is in service - the Wacs, stationed in South Carolina.

Jimmy Watson, we find out, finally finished school, and with Robert Norville and James Simpkins as partners, own Watson, Norville, and Simpkins' Funeral Home.

The two faces that we see ahead of us are Steve Cobb and Frankie Edwards. They tell us they are now professional baseball players for the New York Yankees.

Mary Pollard, we learn, has pursued her career in basketball. She now plays center forward for Hazel Walker's Arkansas Travelers.

Mary Hathaway and Vickie Motley, we are told, could not be with us today because both of them have sick children and were compelled to stay home.

Suddenly we hear laughter and we see Faye Brewer, Mary Ann Tingen, Shirley Stancill and Mary Wainright. Faye and Mary Ann tell us that they are secretaries for Governor Sanford, and Mary and Shirley tell us they are telephone operators.

A little further on, we hear two nurses discussing the two new doctors at the hospital. The nurses are Barbara Stancill and Elizabeth Boyd, and the doctors they are talking about, are none other than Nickey Cherry and Charles Chrisp.

We have almost completed our tour of the crowd, but wait! Just ahead of us we see Bobby Stancill and his wife. Bobby tells us that he owns a large dairy farm near Greenville and is doing very well with it.

Completing our visit with our friends, we return to the car. Suddenly, a lump comes in our throat as we remember the gay times and fond memories we had with our friends at Belvoir-Falkland High School.
